ABOUT ME

As a role higher national diploma in IT student at Hardy University (SLIATE), I have spent the last one year honing my skills in HTML, CSS and JavaScript to build the parts of websites. I enjoy working with designers and other developers to make sure everything fits together perfectly.

I'm always learning about new tools and techniques to make websites even better, and I am eager to bring this same drive and commitment to the Frontend developer intern position to your esteemed company. I am confident that my strong technical skills and creativity make me an excellent candidate for this role.
